Milk Thieves Active—Complaints come from all parts of the city that tramps are stealing the bottles of milk left by the milkman on his early morning call. This petty larceny has become a regular thing in some of the residential districts, and is growing in frequency.

Stock Men Will Meet—Stock raisers of Josephine county will hold a meeting at Merlin, at 2:30 p. m., Saturday, December 13, to organize for the protection of the stock business. Stock raising is one of the important industries of this county and in the past inroads have been made in the profits by the loss of stock, some of which has been driven from the country by rustlers.

Mounted Specimens for Stockton—B. M. Bush, taxidermist, on Monday and Tuesday shipped to Stockton three mounted deer, a deer head and an elk head, which will be placed in a Stockton museum. Mr. Welch, who represents the museum, was in Grants Pass some months ago and saw some of the work of Mr. Bush and was so much pleased that this large order followed.

Gustav Karner Married—Gustav Karner and Miss Therese Rohrmoser were married Monday evening in the sitting room on the second floor of the Karner Market building, Justice James Holman officiating, E. H. Richard and H. L. Herzinger witnessing the ceremony. Mr. Karner has been a resident of Grants Pass and conducted a meat business here for many years.

Coyote Drive Postponed—The coyote drive which had been planned for Thanksgiving Day by the Josephine County Game and Fish Protective Association has been postponed indefinitely. Because of the present inclement weather and the probability of its continuing so throughout the week, the directors decided to wait until the weather man could assure them of a large attendance at the drive.

GAME WARDENS GATHER IN SIX BIG LEAGUERS

Medford, Nov. 25.—A raid, conducted jointly Monday by game wardens of California and Oregon on a deserted mining cabin on Dutch creek, near Wharton, on the California side of the border, yielded six San Francisco Coast League baseball players as prisoners for violations of the game law.

Carcasses of two deer, rifles and ammunition in wholesale quantities were confiscated. The prisoners are Jerry Downs, Harry Hughes, J. Clarke, Howard Mundorff, William Hogan and Louis Sepulveda.

The ball players established themselves in winter quarters several weeks ago. The wives of three of them, Downs, Clarke and Hogan, recently joined them. Hogan was left with the women and the others taken to Yreka today. Upon their return, Hogan will report to the authorities at Yreka. The prisoners say they thought they were so far out of the world that their hunting was safe and admit bagging an abundance of game. The retreat was located several days ago by Wardens Landry, Hubbard and Merrill of Oregon, who notified Deputy Commissioners White of Redding and Harris of Yreka.

DAUGHTER OF PRESIDENT F. B. SAYRE'S BRIDE

Washington, Nov. 25.—President Wilson was at his desk several minutes earlier than usual today. He received the usual number of callers and then conferred with the members of his cabinet until 1:30 o'clock. When one of the cabinet officers reminded him that today was his daughter's wedding day, the president smiled. "Well," he said, "I am not an important figure in the ceremony."

Washington, Nov. 25.—Amid a scene of rare beauty, Miss Jessie Woodrow Wilson, second daughter of President and Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, wedded Francis B. Sayre of New York, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Sayre of Pennsylvania, at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon. Surrounded by foreign diplomats, resplendent in their brilliant uniforms, the highest officials in the service of the country, members of the most exclusive social set of the capital, including several hundred friends and kinsmen of the two families, the bridal couple took the Presbyterian vows in the east room of the White House, the scene of many famous and historic gatherings.

Simplicity marked the ceremony, but the scene was one of royal grandeur. Women in brilliant gowns, the corps of aides to the president in uniforms, the bandmen hidden behind the bank of palms and flowers in full dress regalia, the bride, charming in a rich cream white satin gown, all combined to make this, the thirteenth White House wedding more notable than any of the twelve that have preceded it. The Rev. Sylvester W. Beach of Princeton, N. J., family pastor of the Wilsons during their residence in the university town, performed the ceremony.

Departing from the usual custom of White House weddings, the bridal couple entered the east room to the strains of Lohengrin's Wedding March, played by the United States marine band, and accompanied by the voices of a group of St. John's Protestant Episcopal church choir boys. The bridal party formed in the dining room, after the Wilson and Sayre family parties had entered the east room from the stairway. The 800 guests had already found their places. Mr. Sayre and his best man, Dr. Wilfred T. Grenfell of Labrador, descended the state stairway and proceeded to his position at the right of the altar.

Just as the clock pointed to 4:30 o'clock, the marine band, which had previously played softly, struck up the wedding march. This was taken up by the choir boys, who awaited the bridal party in the west end of the red corridor. Radiant in her shimmering robe of white satin, and leaning on the left arm of the president, the bride took the triumphant march to the altar—a raised platform near the great window opening on to the east terrace. Oregon Agricultural College Farmers' Week

December 8 to 13, 1913. This will be a notable event in the educational history of Oregon. "Farmers' Co-operation" will be the leading topic of a stimulating series of lectures. The week will be crowded with discussions and demonstrations in everything that makes for the welfare of the farmer and home-maker.

Winter Short Course

January 5 to 30, 1914. The college has spared no effort to make this the most complete short course in its history. A very wide range of courses will be offered in General Agriculture, Horticulture, Animal Husbandry, Dairying, Poultry Keeping, Mechanic Arts, Domestic Science and Art, Commerce, Forestry, and Music. Numerous lectures and discussions on Farmers' Co-operation, at home and abroad, will be a leading feature. Make this a pleasant and profitable winter outing. No tuition. Accommodations reasonable. Reduced rates on all railroads. For further information address H. M. TENNANT, Registrar, Corvallis, Oregon. Farmers' Business Courses by Correspondence without tuition.

FULLER GETS SENTENCE OF FROM 3 TO 20 YEARS

From three to twenty years in the state penitentiary was the punishment meted out to A. G. Fuller, a garage employe from this city, by the circuit court at Medford today. Fuller having been convicted on a statutory crime against Beatrice Kavanaugh, a 16-year-old girl of Medford. The girl on the stand testified that her downfall had been accomplished by Fuller when she was but 13 years of age. The girl is now in a hospital suffering from a nervous breakdown.

The tragic figure of the trial was Mrs. Fuller, wife of the defendant, whose faith in her mate was unshaken until she heard letters read from Fuller to the girl, whom he called "Babe," that teemed with love, and at times bordered on the salacious suggestive.

Fuller in defense maintained that he viewed the Kavanaugh girl as a sister and that all his intentions were honorable. The Kavanaughs, father and mother, appeared for the defendant, and against their own child.

Fuller was a prolific letter writer. Epistles he sent to the girl and her parents were read as evidence. In one the mother of the complaining witness is called "sweetheart."

WRITERS OF CAVE STORIES RECEIVE THEIR PRIZES

The Commercial Club has received notification from the committee having the matter in charge that the prize moneys offered by the local organization for the best stories of the Mazama trip to the caves had been received and turned over to the winners. The first prize of $15 was awarded to Miss Mary Henthorne of Portland, and the second prize of $10 to Miss Laura H. Peterson, also of the Rose City. Both prize stories will be published in the newspapers and in the Mazama magazine in the near future, the latter publication to have them in the January issue.

CO-OPERATION IN MAILING MATTER IS REQUESTED

In order to facilitate the correct and speedy dispatch of mails, I would respectfully ask your co-operation in the matter of having mail correctly and legibly addressed, as well as having your return address in full.

The delivery of letters and packages is frequently delayed and oftentimes made impossible by the omission of an important part of the address, such as the street and number or by the transposing of the initials.

During Christmas time the mails are very heavy and packages are subject to more or less delay, so when possible packages should be mailed early and bear the words, "not to be opened until Christmas," or similar inscription. This, together with early shipment, insures the timeliness of Christmas gifts.

came the attendants, Miss Margaret Woodrow Wilson, sister of the bride, as maid of honor; Miss Eleanor Randolph Wilson, another sister; Miss Mary G. White of Baltimore; Miss Adeline Mitchell Scott of Princeton, N. J.; and Miss Marjorie Brown of Atlanta, Georgia, as bridesmaids. Benjamin B. Burton of New York, Dr. Scovill Clark of Salem, Mass.; Dr. Gilbert Horax of Montclair, N. J.; and Charles E. Hughes, Jr., of New York, acted as ushers. With perfectly timed tread, the bride and her father ascended the dais, where Rev. Mr. Beach awaited them with the bridegroom and his best man.

A perfect day prevailed for the wedding and the occupants of the White House rose early. The bride-to-be and the other members of the Wilson family breakfasted at 9 o'clock, and 30 minutes later relatives and friends began to arrive. The east room was ready to receive them. Outside the grounds were thronged with hundreds of curious persons, 100 policemen perserving order.

Sayre remained at the home of Supreme Court Justice Hughes until time for the ceremony. Miss Wilson and her sisters were busy packing trunks and suit cases. The destination of the couple was kept secret, but they were scheduled to leave the White House shortly before 6 o'clock.

The Rev. Dr. Beach admitted this morning that the word "obey" would be excluded from the ceremony.

A merry party, including members of the Wilson and Sayre families, were at the White House for luncheon, the marine band furnishing the music.

REGISTRATION LAW 1913 HELD UNCONSTITUTIONAL

Salem, Nov. 25.—Oregon's 1913 permanent registration law, including the repealing clauses, was declared unconstitutional today by the state supreme court. This action reinstated the old registration law which requires that an elector must register before each election. A peremptory writ of mandamus, sought by the city of Portland, was granted directing John B. Coffey, clerk of Multnomah county, to deliver to the city auditor the 1912 registration lists for use at the special election next month.

The 1913 act is declared unconstitutional because the legislature did not complete the enactment of the law but attempted to involve the supreme court in connection with the legislation by making a provision that inasmuch as the supreme court held the compulsory feature of the act unconstitutional, the remainder of the act would remain in force. The compulsory feature was not passed upon by the court. The opinion, written by Justice Moore, holds that the validity of the act is made to depend upon a decision of the supreme court, which body is not legislative.

The section which provides that if an elector lost his certificate of registration, he could not obtain another unless he had witnesses to prove that the certificate was destroyed by a natural calamity, is declared unreasonable.

FORMER AMBASSADOR WILSON TALKS OF MEXICO

Washington, Nov. 24.—Henry Lane Wilson, former ambassador to Mexico, last night in an address here likened the diplomacy of the Wilson administration to "A Mother Hubbard, which covers everything and touches nothing."

"We are now committed to a policy in the Mexican situation," said Wilson, "which will lead to humiliation or require us to play schoolmaster to every unruly republic between the Rio Grande and Cape Horn."

Wilson told of the efforts of the diplomatic corps at Mexico City to save the city from the terrible bloodshed of the ten days of bombardment just prior to the killing of Madero.

"The diplomats, the Mexican senate and the Mexican deputies bore petitions to Madero to step aside and turn his powers over to congress," said Wilson. "When the army added its petition, Madero, with his own hands, killed the two officers who bore the message. Subsequently Madero fled and was captured by the rebels and later assassinated in revenge for the death of the officers he killed. Huerta had nothing to do with it."

"The government of Huerta," continued Wilson, "was as legally organized as the government of Roosevelt after the assassination of McKinley. Every act taken was in concord with the constitution."

"Never before has this government attempted to pass on the qualifications of another country to govern itself. Never before have Americans been ordered out of another country."
